MONDAY, MARCH 21.

An eastern editor refers to General Weaver as "a dream." He must have been suffering with the "jimmies."

MAX's portion seldom includes both money and brains. There's whole seeds of consolation for country editors in this philosophic deduction.

It is only when a man is dead broke and subject to the persecution of fellow men, that he realizes the depths of pessimism the soul is capable of.

Junco from all reports, the south-eastern part of the territory is fairly afloat in prosperity. But then that is the condition of the whole of New Mexico.

As a point in support of the statement that the New Mexican climate is conducive of longevity, it may be well to remark that editors rarely ever get killed here.

OVER $15,000,000 in farm mortgages were released in Nebraska during 1897. Mr. Bryan's silence seems to indicate that some of these facts are lying heavily against his vocal cords.

The collection of taxes is a vital matter just at the present time, and if necessary to enforce such collections there is a remedy for dereliction of duty on the part of county officials, in the hands of the governor.

THE NEW MEXICAN'S endeavor to secure an equitable and honest assessment of property in the territory, and the collection of taxes levied, is meeting with the approval of persons desiring a better administration of the finances of New Mexico.

Trade With the Hawaiian Islands.

The United States consular general at Honolulu, Mr. William Haywood, has recently submitted a report concerning the shipping trade between the Hawaiian Islands and the United States, which proves of particular interest at this time, when the subject of annexation is being discussed in congress.

According to the report, the whole number of ships entering the port of Hawaii in the year 1897, was 427, of which 286 were American crafts. There was an increase in the number of ships engaged in the Hawaiian trade of 41, of which 39 were Americans. The aggregate of American tonnage engaged in the island trade is 270,045 tons, of which 164,406 are sailing vessels. A loss of a considerable part of this trade will inevitably follow the failure of annexation.

The commerce of the world is moving east from Europe, and much of it will locate in Pacific ports of Asia. The Hawaiian Islands, so long considered out of the busy world, will be close to its center. The construction of the Nicaragua canal will throw into westward channels a large proportion of the trade that has sought Asia through the Suez canal. Those of the American people who live 20 years hence will wonder that there should ever have been a doubt that an American senate would gladly accept a group of islands so fortunately situated, at the request of its government.

Funny Spanish War Talk.

One of the humorous incidents growing out of the talk of war between the United States and Spain, is the reported saying of the Spanish ambassador to Vienna: That if the United States, in case of war, should incite the Philippines to revolt, Spain could revenge herself by raising revolts in the American southern states. Not only is such talk ridiculous, but it conveys a clear idea of the erroneous impressions entertained in Spain regarding conditions in the United States. No man who had traveled in this country, or who knew anything of the American people, would have made a remark of that character.

During the last month the most enthusiastic talk favoring war over the Cuban and Maine questions, has come from the southern states, and should war eventually break out, the first men to offer their services would be the sons of the men who fought against the Union in the rebellion. The Spanish gentleman who makes his headquarters at Vienna seems to think that the southern states are held by the government as colonies, and that the people of that section of the country are only awaiting an opportunity to regain their freedom; perhaps this same opinion may prevail to a large extent among the Spanish. If such is the case and Spain is building hopes of help in case of war from an insurrection in this country, there will be a sorely disappointed lot of statesmen in Madrid within ten days after war has been declared.

In America the people of one section may abuse those of another over politics, howl about class legislation, and otherwise give the impression to foreigners that blood-shed is imminent, but the moment any nation threatens to tread on Uncle Sam's coat tails, politics, money questions and county seat fights are forgotten in the rush to get a swipe at the offender. As a free born people, Americans claim the privilege of rowing among themselves if they feel so disposed, but the moment there is danger of any outside trouble, a truce is declared among themselves, and the intruder would just as well stand under.

Only Misrepresentations Objectionable.

The development of the sugar beet industry in the United States is beginning to attract considerable attention in Germany, and there is a disposition on the part of German statesmen to look upon the interest taken in the culture of beets in America, as a desire on the part of this country to retaliate for the prohibition of imports of American meats and fruits into that land. In a recent issue of a Leipzig paper there appeared an article on the subject from which the following is taken:

"At present they are stimulated and encouraged in their efforts, which have so serious a meaning for us, by the foolish action of the German Agricultural Bund, which has inspired the unheard-of measure against the importation to this country of American agricultural products, and has had the audacity to condemn American meats as unwholesome, thereby greatly embittering the feelings of American farmers against Germany. The latter now rushes with redoubled fervor into sugar-beet cultivation in order to supplant entirely the use of German sugar. The Bund of German agriculturists may be actuated by the best intentions to aid and protect its members, but blind zeal only injures whom it would help, and is in this case wholly out of place. America imports from its constantly sugar, hides, skins, wool, wax, hemp and manufactures of such materials, as well as seeds, potato starch, etc., which are in fact agricultural products, and it is simply insanity to want to slap such a customer in the face."

The writer of the article is mistaken concerning the motives for the manufacture of beet sugar in this country. The Americans are justly noted for their readiness for seeing through a mill stone, especially when there is a hole clear through it. Having demonstrated that certain sections of the United States are admirably adapted to the growing of superior beets, and knowing that foreign countries for sugar, the conclusion at once arrived at was that the only way to keep that vast amount of money at home was to make the sugar needed for the nation's use. Then the belief that beets would prove a more profitable crop than any now raised, helped on the experiments, and the result will be that from now on America will buy less and less sugar from Germany, as factories are built, and in the end will buy none at all. The Americans have no objections to the Germans protecting their home markets in an honest manner, and are willing to pay for the privilege of selling products to consumers in that land, but when our meats and fruits are excluded through misrepresentations, the demand for them is lessened in other countries, and to this manner of doing business there is naturally an objection.

Kind Words for the New Mexican.

Certainly the NEW MEXICAN, through the columns of the DAILY NEW MEXICAN, OF THE WEEKLY NEW MEXICAN REVIEW and EL NERVO MEXICANO, will make a good and strong first during the coming campaign for the Republican party and for its friends. This is becoming so plain that he who would run had better read.

This modest editorial note appeared in the NEW MEXICAN on Tuesday. The only fault we find with it is its brevity. Two or three columns could well be utilized in telling of the benefits the Republican party has received and is receiving by the advocacy of its principles in these three valuable journals, owned and edited by Colonel Max Frost. Then a full pen could profitably deal with the great good being done New Mexico and her people by the continued citation of her claims to industrial prominence and happy citizenship, in the columns of these same publications, and yet leave untouched much material of the same character for future use.—San Marcial Bee
